OFFICIALS OF SOUTHERN HERE

Conferred With Merchants Last Night.

Vice President Coapman, Traffic Manager Green, General Freight Agent Drake and Local Agent Thompson Met With Merchants' Association and Heard Complaints As to Unjust Freight Rates—To Give Milling In Transit.

A large number of the merchants of the city met last night with officials of the Southern Railway to discuss freight rates, or rather to discuss the unjust rates to which Greensboro people are subjected. As a result the officials promised to give Greensboro what is known as "milling in transit" rates as advantageous as are given Statesville and other points.

As to the complaint that it costs more to stop a car of material from southern points in Greensboro than to carry the car on to Virginia points the officials, or rather Mr. Green, stated that he would have to take each case and study it out on its merits, that he did not carry the rates in his head and as he did not know the nature of the conference before hand he was not prepared to answer all questions offhand.

Here for the meeting were Vice President and General Manager E. H. Coapman, Traffic Manager J. A. Green, of Washington; General Freight Agent J. H. Drake, of Richmond, and Division Freight Agent G. G. Thompson, of this city. The out of town officials came in on train No. 35 and left this morning in Mr. Coapman's special car, attached to train No. 32.

The meeting was called to order by President Phoenix, of the Merchants' Association, who stated that the officials had consented to come here and have a face to face talk regarding the trouble, the merchants believing that when the officials once understood the situation thoroughly they would remedy some, if not all, of the causes of the complaints. He felt sure that some good would result.

Messrs. Coapman and Green stated that they did not know the nature of the trouble, but would be glad to hear from those who thought they were not getting just rates and would answer, if possible, all questions asked. They declared that they would do anything in their power to remove the causes of complaints.

Messrs. C. H. Ireland, C. W. Jennings, R. E. Steele, Jake Oettinger and several others stated that the rates to and from Greensboro were higher than the rates of other cities. For instance it was stated that a car of bananas shipped from New Orleans could be carried through Greensboro to Lynchburg, Va., for 41 cents, while it would cost 83 cents to stop the car in Greensboro. And again a carload of flour coming from Louisville, Ky., via Lynchburg, would come to Lynchburg at car load rates, but after leaving Lynchburg the rate would be the same as is charged on less than car load lots between Lynchburg and Greensboro. It was also pointed out that a Lynchburg jobber could ship portions of car load lots to small towns around Greensboro, coming through the city to reach their destination, at lower rates than an entire carload could be shipped to Greensboro direct.

The questions as to why this rate discrimination was forced on Greensboro the officials were unable to answer, or rather Mr. Green said that he would have to take each case and carefully consider it before he would be in position to make an intelligent reply. He then delved into a discussion of the principle of freight rates, telling how they are based, etc., too deep for the average citizen to fully comprehend.

As to granting lower rates Mr. Green stated that it was not in the power of the railroad to lower or raise rates, this power being conferred on the interstate corporation commission. He declared that if North Carolina was given rates as compared to those in Virginia the Southern would be bankrupt at once. He stated that it was natural that in thickly populated sections, where the business was immense that lower rates should prevail than in sections where the business was not so great. As to the rates from Greensboro to a given point being lower than from that point to Greensboro Mr. Green stated that this acted as a protection to the local interests as concerns in the distant city could not come here and compete with the home manufacturer. He said he would be glad to take up each individual case and give any relief possible.

Mr. Phoenix thanked the visiting officials, in behalf of the association, and said he felt sure that if no other good than the promise of the "milling in transit" rate and the securing of a new tariff on buggies were secured the merchants were well repaid for inducing the officials to visit the city. With the "milling in transit" problem settled the prospect for a 500-barrel flour mill were bright, the securing of this enterprise having been held up on this account. Also the securing of a new buggy tarif would result in causing the Messrs. Oettinger to remain here, they having announced their intention of leaving unless lower rates could be secured.

HOLDS PARENTS TO BLAME

Educator Censures Those Who Permit Children to Live Foolishly.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 17.—"Children who can wheedle their parents into letting them act foolishly are being educated to bribe Legislatures into letting them act lawlessly. The American parent has proved unfaithful to the State, to say nothing about his children, when he has given his sons and daughters a monthly allowance and has let them do what they pleased." So declared Dean Shailer Mathews, of the University of Chicago Divinity School, in an address at the closing session of the Religious Education Association's convention.

"Thrift," continued the speaker, "is all but extinct in the average American family. We not only live up to our income, but we live beyond it. Thrift may be 'bourgeoise' virtue, but we have not yet established a Utopia in which it will be unnecessary for our children to pay their bills." Regarding the teaching of eugenics, which President G. Sanley Hall, of Clark University, advocated as one of the solutions of the social problem today, Dean Mathews took an opposite view.

"We hear," he said, "a vast amount of advice to the effect that children are to be taught mysteries of sex. I profoundly believe that the maintenance of moral ideals in families will profit vastly more by the maintenance of chastity than a perpetual discussion of eugenics. It is a mistake to teach boys and girls to substitute physiology for the decalogue. Lives grounded in moral idealism withstand temptations better than lives which have been taught only a prdential chastity. Cleanness of mind is caught rather than taught.

"If parents want their children happily married they must make their own marriage happy. Divorce is a domesticated pathological individualism. It can mostly be prevented by sanctified common sense, the practice of commonplace self-sacrifice and the revived devotion to the upbringing of children."

THE CHARTER FOR THE RAILROAD TO ROXBORO

Mr. McAdoo Will Forward It To Raleigh Monday—The Project Meeting With Approval.

Mr. V. C. McAdoo has had drawn and will send to Raleigh Monday for legislative approval the charter for the proposed new line of railway between Greensboro and Roxboro.

He is greatly impressed with the interest that the talk of this new railroad has developed. He says that all that is needed just now is for this interest to be maintained and for the people here to put their shoulder to the wheel with vim and determination.

The route of the new railroad appeals strongly to those who are familiar with the country to be penetrated. It lies in a splendid farming section for which Greensboro could easily be made the market were the road built.

Mr. McAdoo is enthusiastic over the project and can be depended on to do his utmost to carry it to a brilliant success.

COMMISSIONERS IN TWO CLASSES

Bill to Divide The County Board.

Was Introduced In House By Representative Kirkman Yesterday—Favorable Report on Bill to Prohibit Handling of Liquor In Clubs—Bill For System of State Highways Back to Committee—Other Business.

Raleigh, Feb. 17.—In the House today Representative Kirkman, of Guilford, introduced a bill dividing the Board of Commissioners of Guilford county in two classes.

The Spainhour bill for the establishment of a system of state highways connecting the county seats by convict labor in the several judicial districts came up as special order and after considerable argument was referred to the appropriations committee.

The bill to place Wilkes county officers on salary basis came up for passage. Mr. Cavenness offered an amendment that the act do not apply until the expiration of the terms of the present officers. Representatives Doughton and others contended that salaries was an issue in the last campaign and that all candidates agree to accept salaries if an act was passed. Mr. Long insisted that since Wilkes representatives asked for it the Cavenness amendment should be allowed. The Cavenness amendment was adopted 48 to 43. Ray, of Macon, moved to reconsider the vote by which the amendment deferring operation of the act until terms of present officers expire. Then there was a motion by Long, of Alamance, to table this motion. The Long motion was lost 40 to 46.

The House.

Speaker Dowd convened the House at 11 o'clock. Prayer by Dr. O'Kelly of the First Baptist church.

Petitions were presented: Connor—From employees of the Atlantic Coast Line for employees liability bill. Alspaugh—From citizens of Forsyth county relative to extending the limits of Winston-Salem.

Among bills favorably reported from committees were: Protect Moore county forests from fire; aid in prevention of hog cholera and amend charters of Chapel Hill and Pittsboro.

There were unfavorable reports for the bill to regulate banking, make appropriation for co-operative experiment farming and to create Avery county, the latter with a minority report favorable with twelve signers.

There was favorable report on the Latham bill to prohibit the traffic or sale of liquor in clubs. This Latham bill, which is No. 1013, prohibits liquor in clubs under any condition including private lockers for members, excepting only liquors kept by hospitals and asylums that keep liquors for medical purposes.

BILL FOR FARM LIFE SCHOOLS

Passes Second Reading in Senate.

Considerable Discussion, Chiefly In Favor of Bill—Provides For Appropriation of $2,500 For Every County That Makes Like Appropriation For Establishment of Schools In Which Agriculture and Domestic Science Is Taught.

Raleigh, Feb. 17.—The Senate this morning resumed consideration of Senator Cobb's bill to establish state farm-life schools and Senator Gardner made an exhaustive argument for the bill, giving many reasons why it should pass and showing that it has the endorsement of the A. & M. College, the state superintendent of public instruction and the teachers generally as well as the State Farmers' Union. He was followed by Senator Ivie, who heartily endorsed the movement, contending that it would prove a wise and profitable investment for the state to appropriate as the bill provides, $2,500 to any county that will raise a like amount for buildings and equipment and furnish the land for these schools.

Senator Brown made a speech for the bill, declaring that it proposes to help those people who will help themselves. Senator Boyden also gave the bill his endorsement and said the people of his county were anxious to have one of these schools.

Senator Pharr announced that he was in favor of the bill, but he wanted to hear it read and discussed by sections. It was decided to have this done after it passes second reading.

The bill passed second reading and was re-referred to the committee on education together with amendments to be printed.

New Bills.

Cotten: Provide for the enlargement and maintenance of the Eastern Carolina Teachers' Training School at Greenville.

Hobgood: Prohibit the use of the word "doctor" to procure patients; also provide for primary elections in the state and prevent corrupt practices in election contests. (500 copies ordered to be printed.)

Senator Gardner's joint resolution calling upon the state treasurers to furnish a revised list of the taxes paid by the various counties into the state treasury was reported favorably by the committee on propositions and grievances.

Senator Brown's bill for a general drainage law was reported favorably by the committee on agriculture and re-referred to the committee on judiciary.

The joint conference committee reported that the House committee had receded from its refusal to concur in the Senate amendments to the Kent bill against near beer and the report was adopted and the bill ordered enrolled for ratification.

The Boyden-Sikes state highway commission bill came up as a special order at 12 o'clock and was debated for two hours, further consideration being postponed until next Tuesday at 12 o'clock. The bill was reported favorably by the committees on public roads and on appropriations and its machinery of the measure was explained by one of its patrons, Senator Sikes, of Wake, who made an earnest argument for state aid to counties in road building, which the bill is designed to secure.

Considerable opposition developed during the debate, Senator Pharr announcing his unalterable opposition to state aid and declaring that the only way to secure good roads is for the counties benefiting to impose taxes. The scheme of the bill, he declared, is impractical and should not be adopted.

Senator Coxe spoke in behalf of the bill, believing good roads to be the best means for enhancing the value of property in the state. He couldn't see why the state's credit could be impaired when it is proposed that it take county bonds for full value of the money paid by the state to the counties. He was confident the bill has merit and urged the senators to read it and vote for it.

Further consideration of the special order was on motion of Senator Hicks postponed until next Tuesday at 12 o'clock.

A man may be ungainly—and still win out.

MUCH INTEREST IN GOOD ROADS

Large Attendance at Meeting Expected.

Mass Meeting In Opera House This Morning At 10 O'Clock—Address by W. L. Spoon on Good Roads and How to Maintain Them—Practical Demonstration Will Follow Address—Other Speeches.

The interest in good roads is constantly increasing, the agitation looking to the building of good roads being largely responsible for this increased interest. Those who have been working for the mass meeting to be held in the opera house today at ten o'clock are looking for a large and enthusiastic attendance from all parts of the county. Mr. W. L. Spoon, state highway engineer, is to make the principal address and, among other things, he will tell how to keep dirt roads in good condition. While he will dwell upon the advantages gained by those living on macadamized or sand-clay roads he will especially urge those who have nothing but dirt roads to keep these in the best possible condition, by cooperating with the county authorities along this line.

Following the address several local good roads men will speak, after which Mr. Spoon will give a demonstration with a split-log-drag, which he claims is one of the best devises in use in keeping dirt roads in good condition. This will be given on one of the dirt streets o the city and will no doubt be witnessed by a number of Greensboro people.

The program in detail for the meeting follows:

The meeting will be called to order 10 a. m. by J. Van Lindley, president of the Guilford County Good Roads Association.

Call read by S. L. Trogdon, secretary of the Guilford County Good Roads Association.

Address of A. M. Scales, introducing the principal speaker of the morning.

Address of W. L. Spoon, State highway engineer, on "Good Roads and How to Maintain Them."

Short speeches by advocates of improved roads.

Discussion of ways and means for the formation of good roads clubs in every township in the county.

Practical demonstration on a near-by street by Mr. Spoon of the split-log drag.

Some very marked improvements to the Midway Presbyterian church building are approaching completion. Two new Sunday school rooms have been added, also a vestibule and bell tower. J. W. Goodman.

GROWING CHILDREN

play hard and work hard at school, and rapid growth uses up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that needs replacing.

This accounts for the many delicate, sickly and ailing children we see on our streets.

We wish the mother of every such child would come to our store for a bottle of Vinol, as it is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic which children love to take, and it is easily assimilated.

A grateful mother in Durand, Mich., says her little girl was weak, pale, and had no appetite. She gave her Vinol and she began to thrive at once—and she gained rapidly in weight, color and strength. (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol builds up good healthy flesh and muscle tissue and makes thin little limbs round and plump.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that if it does not benefit your child your money will be returned.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
Cures Colds: Prevents Pneumonia

CLARK'S CANDIDACY.

Coming Speaker of House Makes Frank Statement of His Position.

Congressional Record.

Mr. Norris—Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. Clark, of Missouri—I will yield to the gentleman.

Mr. Norris—I want to ask the gentleman if he thinks there is any danger of any contention in the Democratic party for the next Presidential nominanion between himself and the President?

Mr. Clark, of Missouri—Oh, not a bit. My guess is that I will get it hands down. (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Norris—I hope so.

Mr. Clark, of Missouri—Since that subject is raised, I would like to say in a public way what I have frequently said in private to inquiring and enthusiastic friends. I am not running for President. I do not lie awake nights inducing insomnia by pestering my head to count Clark delegates for the national convention, or Clark votes in the Electoral College, but I am not fool enough to decline a nomination that has not been offered me. (Laughter and applause.)

And another thing, while I am not a candidate, it is decidedly pleasant to have newspapers refer to you in that high connection. Now, while the committee business was somewhat changed by Democratic action, one of the finest mots I ever heard in Washington I heard Speaker Cannon utter along in December, 1907. He was then busy in making up his committees. The secretary of the house of commons, Sir Courtney Gilbert, was over here and Hon. Asher C. Hinds gave a luncheon in the basement to Sir Coutrney. The Speaker, Mr. Williams, himself and several others were present; the Speaker was in a hurry. He did not stay until the luncheon was finished, but when he got up to go, after he had lighted his cigar, he said:

"Sir Courtney, before I go I want to leave this reflection with you, that the man that is Speaker of the House immediately preceding a Presidential election is frequently referred to as a Presidential candidate until after he appoints his committees."

(Laughter and applause.)

I feel about it as did that masterful, great man, Thomas Brackett Reed. In the spring of 1896 somebody asked him if he thought he would be nominated for President at St. Louis. He replied: "They may go farther and fare worse, and I suppose they will."

MARCHING INTO ARABIA.

Turkey Sends Big Army to Conquer Red Sea Provinces.

New York Sun.

A Turkish army, 54 battalions of infantry, 4 batteries of mountain guns, 3 of field and 2 machine guns, the best military product of the new administration and the most completely organized and equipped Ottoman force of half a century, is on its way to subjugate the Red Sea provinces. "To subdue once and forever" are the words of the War Minister, Mahmoud Shefket Pasha. The magnitude of the expedition is an indication of the seriousness to the Turks of the situation. "Failure may mean a genoral debacle, * * * its effect upon Albania and Macedonia may be divined," is a comment of the Vienna press.

The War Minister renews a Sisphean struggle that began when the Turks settled in Anatolia and became the Arab's neighbor beyond the Taurus Mountains. Not a warfare as in Europe and Turkey between Moslem and Christian, but between Turkish Mohammedans and Semitic Mohammedans. Religion is not the only consideration, although the Arabs refused to recognize as Caliphs Sultans of Constantinople who knew not the language of the Koran or did not make pilgrimages to Mecca, the heart of Islam.

Look For the Hose With This Mark on the Toes

There are many kinds of guaranteed hosiery but they are all imitations of the original "Holeproof."

When your husband goes out to buy sox, tell him to insist on "Holeproof"—tell him to look on the toes for our trademark.

This means more than you think—it means that if any holes appear within six months we give you new hosiery free.

But that is not all, the hosiery itself is more stylish and comfortable than any other on the market.

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Comfort is supreme in "Holeproof"—the fabric is as soft and smooth as silk. Style is increased for the hosiery is shaped to fit the ankle like a glove fits the hand.

Men's hose come in eleven attractive colors and women's in six. Price $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Children's hose, in black and tan, at $2 a box of six pairs. Please come in and see this hosiery today—it costs no more than the ordinary.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

A WALKING BATTERY

By JULIUS D. WALKER

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

When Johnny Barker was eighteen years old he enlisted in the United States navy as electrician. In the navy Johnny learned two things. He learned all about electrical contrivances, and he learned what were and what were not his rights. Moreover, he associated with men who were trained to fight.

When Johnny's term of enlistment expired he entered the service of a company interested in laying a trolley line in the far west. The road ran between two towns, either of which was bad enough, but both together were frightful. They are cities now, helped to become such by the improvements put in by Johnny Barker, but at that time they had not put away Judge Revolver, who dispensed all the law there was in the territory. Every one told Johnny that he must go about armed if he wished to live, but Johnny said he wouldn't be quick enough with a revolver if attacked and he might as well be shot without one as with one. Indeed, without one he would be saved the labor of carrying about so heavy a weapon.

Johnny went to a dance one night, and among the girls he asked to dance with him was Nora O'Neill, a red headed Irish girl who worked in a house where meals were served to workmen on the trolley line. While the couple were standing on the floor waiting for the piano and fiddle to furnish music a young man indigenous to the country stepped up to Johnny and said:

"I want you to understand yer jumpin' my claim. Don't you do it ag'in."

Having thus put out a warning, the fellow went away. Johnny asked the girl what he meant.

"Oh, he thinks he owns me, but he don't! I wouldn't have nothing to do with such a low down feller."

Johnny danced with Nora several times after that. Jim Turkle, who claimed her for his own, glared at him, but committed no overt act. Johnny was unarmed, and those who knew Jim averred that he would never kill a man without giving him a chance for his life. Since he had killed half a dozen and no one had killed him this didn't seem to be much of an advantage to his enemies.

But before the dance broke up Jim served notice on Johnny that he had better be prepared in the morning either to give or to take a dose of lead.

When 9 o'clock came and Johnny had not been killed the people of the town lined the main street to see the work done. They wouldn't have arisen early to see a fracas of this kind; but, being up, they didn't mind looking on. Johnny had not yet come out of his quarters, and some said he had gone away during the night. Others declared that he was at home and one who had served Uncle Sam wouldn't run away from an enemy.

Meanwhile Johnny, who had made friends with the better class of citizens, was informed by them that Jim Turkle meant what he said and, since he had given notice of his intention, would not spare his enemy because he was unarmed. They advised Johnny to sit up all night and practice firing at a mark and especially at doing quick work with a revolver. But Johnny said he didn't think that he could equal his enemy in that line if he practiced a year. But, though he didn't seem to relish the position he was in, he said he had thought of a method of procedure that would make the chances more equal.

It was about half past 9 that Johnny left his quarters and with his hands in his pockets sauntered down the street, lined with people waiting to see him killed. There was no evidence of a weapon anywhere about him. He wore an ordinary business suit that he had brought with him from the east. If he had carried a weapon under the short sack coat it would have been apparent. Only one change was to be noticed in his apparel. Instead of the sombrero of the country he usually wore he had on a derby. Around it was a very singular band, pierced at every inch by a hole about a quarter of an inch in diameter.

Turkle had been all the morning standing in front of the Alhambra saloon waiting for his victim. Seeing Johnny coming, he advanced to meet him. Jim scowled at his enemy keeping his hands in his pockets, since he should have kept them in readiness to defend himself. Jim could not see a weapon, but supposed Johnny had one concealed. When they came at a fair range Jim sent a bullet at his enemy. Since it failed to hit and Jim was a dead shot, those looking on supposed that it had been fired to warn Johnny that the fight was on.

Then commenced the most remarkable firing that crowd had ever seen. From the holes in Johnny's hatband came a series of smoke puffs, accompanied by sharp reports. Johnny's head was seen to bend slightly, as though he were aiming. He also turned to the right or to the left that he might bring other holes in his hatband to bear on his enemy. Jim was so astonished that he forgot to fire till one of the bullets sent from his enemy's hat pierced his side and paralyzed all effort. He fell and was picked up by his friends, and Johnny passed on.

He had rigged short pistol barrels in his hat; also a battery with wires leading from it to circuit making keys in his pocket.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL GREENSBORO, N. C.

We are all agreed that the State needs a new capitol. But the particularly absorbing question is: How can we keep paying out money that we haven't got?

Russia gives notice that she may have to show her teeth, in order to get the proper respect from China; but we haven't had a report in two weeks from Mr. Hobson as to how we stand with Japan.

There is talk in Washington of more salary raising. If they would just hurry and lower the cost of living perhaps our public officials could live respectably on what they get until protective tariff time comes round again.

Every town that grows advertises; every advertising town that holds its own makes good its propositions. This is an age of beauty, of culture, of civic art; and the town that increases most in a population of worthy citizens will excell in two things: advertising and civic beauty.

A NEUTRAL FRIEND.

The country is safe. The West is not so wild and wooly now, but it is still brave and fair and free. From the open wold and towering mountain still come those stalwart, god-crowned fellows who have learned from nature those lessons of wisdom, embracing a broad charaity, liberty, courage, keen perception, and a love of fair play, which the immured and choleric city dweller spends years in a pathetic and usually vain endeavor to acquire from books and neutral culture.

Touching the bill providing for the election of Senators by the people, the Sutherland amendment was offered to protect the negro, as alleged by its supporters, from disfranchisement in the South; it also would give control of said elections to Congress. The other day Mr. Root, speaking against the bill, took occasion to make some unwise and obnoxious flings at the South. It remained for a Westerner and a Republican, Mr. Borah, of Idaho, to rise in the Senate on Thursday, unmask Mr. Root and tell the truth just as wise and honest men see it and just as it exists, without apology, quibbling, or equivocation of speech. Mr. Borah said bluntly that those gentlemen in the North who are charging the South with unfair treatment of the negro are but hypocrites; that the North does not love the negro any better than does the South. He said that the negro had been used as a football about as long as decency would permit.

If the colored man has not his constitutional rights, why has not the Senate taken action to enforce the fifteenth amendment according to its literal interpretation? As Mr. Borah intimates, the question is used simply as a reactionary cudgel. No one knows better than the negro that, at heart, the Northerner is no better friend to him than is the Southerner. And Messrs. Root and Depew deceive no one, not even themselves, when they would essay to lead intelligent men to believe that Anglo-Saxon blood is warmer in New York than it is in North Carolina. And when the senatorial election question is settled nothing more will be said about the mistreatment of the negro in the South, until another bill is introduced affecting the interests of a few "hypocritical" Northern Republicans.

Mr. Borah said what many a Southerner well knows, but being a Westerner and without intimate association with either the North or the South in their social problems, he is in a position to speak with force and conviction upon a subject which is calculated but to incite sectional animosity when discussed by Southern representatives.

It is to be deplored by all good people that we cannot have peace; but so long as a State is represented by such men as Mr. Root, the country will be sectionalized. Nevertheless, three sections are better than two; and we in the South may expect fair play, candid, frank and just judgment from our neutral friends from the West.

GREAT CITIES AND THEIR PLAYGROUNDS.

Thirteen years ago the only public-school playground in the city of New York was an abandoned cemetery. Now there are 261 of these reservations, for the maintenance of which $123,000 was spent in 1909. The total amount thus far expended for playgrounds in New York is $15,000,000. This is no more than a beginning, however, for during a recent year 400 New York children were injured by passing vehicles while playing in the streets in front of their schoolhouses. In eleven years Chicago has spent $11,000,000 on a system of playgrounds and recreation centers, which former President Roosevelt calls the greatest civic achievement the world has ever seen. San Francisco, in the tremendous struggle to rebuild upon her ruins, set apart $1,000,000 for establishing playgrounds for her children. Berkeley, California, by no means a metropolitan city, has issued bonds for $450,000 to pay for playgrounds, while Portland, Oregon, has employed one of the most famous landscape architects to turn a large tract of land into the best playgrounds and athletic fields possible. Detroit had nine playgrounds in 1908, and their value was so impressively proved that the mayor persuaded 80 property owners to lend their vacant lots to the city. Cleveland had 22 public playgrounds in operation in 1909, and Dayton spent $75,000 to buy and equip the first of a series. Today 336 cities are maintaining public playgrounds. In 184 cities the amount expended for playgrounds last year was $1,353,114. Philadelphia has 73 of these recreation centers, Boston 77, Baltimore 50, Pittsburg 28 and Washington 32.

AT THE CAPITAL

Bank Amends Its Charter—A Number of New Charters—Hearing on New Coast Line Train.

Raleigh, Feb. 17.—The Merchants and Farmers' Bank, of Mooresville, Iredell county, amends its charter, making the working capital $20,000 and the authorized capital $125,000.

The Daniels Gin and Lumber Company, of Weldon, is chartered with $5,000 by S. A. Lawrence and others. There are also charters for the Hall company, of Halvoro, Columbus county, capital $10,000, by J. W. Hall and others for mercantile business and the New Salem Co-operative Mercantile Company, of Olive Branch, Hamp Breker being one of many incorporators.

The corporation commission announces that the hearing by the commission Monday at Goldsboro on the question of requiring the Atlantic Coast Line to continue its Norfolk-Goldsboro train on to Wilmington will begin at 8 o'clock instead of 12 o'clock as heretofore announced. The effort is to have the train continued to Wilmington so as to arrive there each night about 12:45 and leave on the return trip at 4 a. m. instead of stopping in Goldsboro as at present. The railroad people contend that the train would pass over the line between Goldsboro and Wilmington at such unreasonable hours that the travel would not justify operating it.

During the past year the Raleigh postoffice handled through postmaster Willis G. Briggs $3,358,451. The receipts from stamps and other postage materials amounted to $112,337 with a net profit of $67,874; payments on salaries to rural carriers in the state amounted to $1,297,971; money orders issued, $160,985.

Endorse Bond Issue.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon at five o'clock in the offices in the McAdoo office building. The directors adopted resolutions endorsing the million dollar bond issue bill, providing for the erection of adequate state buildings at Raleigh.

WOOD ALCOHOL KILLED HIM.

Charlotte Man Drinks Deadly Fluid, Winding Up Protracted Spree.

Charlotte News.

Henry Becker, apparently about thirty years old, a tailor by profession, died in the Charlotte hotel this morning about 8:30 o'clock as a result of a protracted spree followed by a self-administered quantity of wood alcohol.

In a semi-conscious condition he was found on the floor of his room by a fellow-roomer whose attention was attracted by loud groans. Without gaining consciousness he died, and an empty bottle that had contained wood alcohol told the story of his death.

Having worked in Charlotte for two years some years ago, Mr. Becker, who was considered one of the best of tailors, left his wife and family in Richmond three weeks ago and came here. He found employment with Tate & Brown, clothiers and tailors, and worked for two weeks. He had not reported for duty for almost a week, and his associates supposed he was drinking too heavily.

However, he had not been confined to his room, and was apparently in good health yesterday. He retired early, so the attendants at the Charlotte hotel think, and until groans from his room were heard this morning nothing was thought out of the ordinary.

Finding that he was unconscious a hurry call was sent to Hawley's drug store and Dr. Rowe responded at once. The man was beyond medical aid when the physician arrived. Coroner Hovis was shortly on the scene and the body was moved to his undertaking establishment. Telegrams were sent to Richmond where a brother, Augustus, now lives, being employed by Barney Myers, one of the most popular tailors of the Old Dominion city.

In their efforts to ascertain who the man was and what were his connections, the hotel attaches and physicians examined his mail with the result that several letters were found from his wife in Richmond. In one letter dated February 13, and received here the following day, Mrs. Becker censures her husband for not sending her money with which to pay rent. No address was given on the letter and the authorities did not know whom to address in Richmond.

It was later found that besides a wife and two children and a brother in Richmond, Mr. Becker has a sister living in Albany, N. Y. Her husband is quoted as being worth at least one million dollars, and a telegram has been sent to police authorities there asking for some information.

In the meanwhile the body will be kept at the undertaking establishment of Mr. Hovis. It is altogether probable that it will be shipped to Richmond for burial.

Just how the dead man secured the wood alcohol is not clearly known. At first it was thought that he had use for the poison in cleaning clothes, but inquiry at the tailoring firm for which he worked elicited the information that he had no use for such an article.

None are disposed to believe that death resulted from any suicidal intent. The general idea is that Becker, awakening early in the morning and having no whiskey to satiate his thirst, experimented with the wood alcohol that chanced to be in his room. His groans awoke the person in an adjoining room who notified the proprietor of the hotel and the investigations followed.

You don't have to be a census enumerator to be convinced that you shouldn't believe everything you hear.

DATE FOR COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION

It Will Be In March This Year Instead of In February As Formerly.

The following notice to the Guilford County Sunday school workers has been handed to The Telegram for publication:

"The central committee of the Guilford County Sunday School Association thought best to have the county convention this year in March instead of February as in past years. The date for the convention is Tuesday, March 21. The convention will be held in the Friends' church of Greensboro. The program will appear a little later.

"It is hoped that before this date all townships will hold their conventions, make reports at the county convention, and pay all dues for state and county work. A number of the townships have paid in full but there are still some that are in arrears. The dues are 3c. per enrollment. Let all the presidents and secretaries see that township conventions are held and dues collected before March 21. Rev. Shuford Peeler, Greensboro, is the secretary-treasurer, and all money should be forwarded to him.

"Let's get busy and have a rousing convention in Greensboro on March 21. All schools should appoint delegates to county convention.

"REV. S. M. RANKIN, Pres.
REV. SHUFORD PEELER, Secy.

MAY INVESTIGATE SHERIFF

Illinois Grand Jury Believes Officer Is Not Serving Papers As He Should.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 17.—A clash between the grand jury and the sheriff's office is among the probabilities of the next few hours in the election fraud investigation. Ever since the elimination of State's Attorney Lewman, it is claimed that Foreman Woodyard has been having trouble in securing witnesses, subpoenas issued being returned with the endorsement "person not found."

This morning Frank Collard, former Danville saloonkeeper, converted during the Billy Sunday revival last year and now himself an evangelist, voluntarily appeared before the grand jury. A subpoena had been issued for him several days ago. Collard says he was at home all day yesterday until evening. As soon as he left the house a deputy sheriff called over the telephone and being informed that Mr. Collard was not at home, immediately appeared at the house with the subpoena. Not finding his man the officer marked the subpoena "not at home" and immediately returned to the sheriff's office.

Bench warrants issued on indictments returned a week ago have not been served and Foreman Woodyard believes such a condition antagonistic to the work of the grand jury exists in the sheriff's office that he will be justified in starting something that will assist the future efforts of the grand jury as much as did the elimination of Lewman.

President Moffitt on Tuesday evening of this week read a most interesting paper, which was the outgrowth of wide research and investigation, before the Cosmopolitan club. In this paper President Moffitt undertook to give a brief resume of the history of every institution of the curricula, of the standard of work done, of the physical equipment, of the endowment, and also a suggestion of what these several institutions might be expected to accomplish in the future. Of these institutions, President Moffitt discussed in great detail as outlined above, nine, but omitted the colleges for colored people and also the high schools.

Dr. E. U. Hoenshel, the distinguished lecturer of Dayton, Va., has captivated the college community this week with two of his excellent lectures, the first of which dealt with his travels in the Holy Land, and the second with his travels in Iceland. Dr. Hoenshel also attended chapel services on Thursday morning and delighted the students with a recitation of a selection dealing with Pioneer Life by Will Carleton.

Elon College is represented in the Y. W. C. A. convention for North Carolina and Virginia which is in session at Guilford College, by Misses Mabel Farmer, Sadie Fonville and Annie Bagwell.

The Young People's Convention of the Christian Church, South, will convene here from April 15-17, being Saturday, Sunday and Monday of the Eastern season.

The Inter-Scholastic contest which is to be pulled off this year on Easter Friday evening, April 14, bids fair to be a success. A preliminary contest will occur on Friday afternoon and the final contest that evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel. There is great interest here manifested in this contest. The faculty offers a medal for the successful contestant in this contest.

Prof. W. P. Lawrence, who is to teach English in the Wooster University Summer School during June and July of this vacation will also lecture before the summer school of Definace College, Defiance, Ohio, which is one of the largest summer schools in the northwestern portion of Ohio. His subject on this accasion will be the Homes and Haunts of English authors.

CURES PIMPLES QUICKLY

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past Howard Gardner has done the biggest business he ever had in any one article in selling Hokara, the skin food that has won so many friends in Greensboro.

It has been found to be an absolute cure not only for all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but for the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic ezcema and salt rheum.

In spite of its unusual curative power, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, Howard Gardner will sell a liberal sized jar for 25c.; larger sized 50c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

TESTIMONIAL.

I wish to state for the benefit of anyone suffering from eczema, that I had eczema on my hand for some time and could find nothing that would cure it until I used Hokara. One 25c jar entirely cured me. Wm. Nichols, 621 1-2 Central Ave., Ft. Dodge, Iowa.

TAMMANY: POLITICAL BLUFF

Only 5,000 Members of Body Which Pretends to Be Party.

New York World.

At various times since he wished William F. Sheehan upon the Democracy of the State of New York, Charles F. Murphy has made the claim that Tammany Hall elected John A. Dix.

The general committee of the Tammany Democracy is the political end of the Tammany Society. This general committeeis a combination of the general committees of the 35 Assembly districts in Manhattan and the Bronx. The membership of the general committee is about 5,000. This is the number of the active and passive Tammany Hall district workers.

So Tammany starts in New York county the day after the nominations are made with the assured votes of 25,000 office-holders and 5,000 members of the genral committee. Back of these Tammany has a claim upon the votes of about 30,000 thick-and-thin dyed-in-the-wool Democrats, who vote the ticket for the same reason that they are right-handed or left handed or wear distinctive styles of ears—they were born that way. They would vote the Democratic ticket if Tammany Hall did not exist. Many of them hate Tammany Hall.

We have, then, an organization of 54 master politicians, aided by some 5,000 small-fry politicians and 25,000 office-holders, assuming the ownership of the Democracy of Greater New York and the State. Tammany has no actual standing in Brooklyn or Queens, as Patrick H. McCarren showed on occasion.

Home protection is true wisdom. Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve ought to be in every home for its quick relief and prevention of two dangerous diseases and the more common ailments such as Colds, Catarrh, Burns and Chaps.

Second thoughts are often best, even in a case of love at first sight.

Beginning of the Germ Theory.

Agostino Bassi, a country doctor in the north of Italy, early in the last century was the starter of the germ theory of disease. At that time a peculiar disease was killing the silkworms, bringing ruin to the whole silk country of Italy. Bassi, by the microscope, discovered the germ which is the cause of the disease. The germ later was named Botritis bassiana. Bassi believed and stated that human diseases were also caused by germs. Bassi's work was sneered at and poohpoohed by his fellow men and physicians, and he failed to make a lasting impression, thereby losing great glory for Italia.—New York Press.

The Orkney Islands.

"The member from the Orkneys" is the only man in the British house of commons who can say he sits for 200 islands. Only sixty of the islands are inhabited, but the constituency embraces more than 60,000 people.

The Orkneys were once given by Norway to England as security for a queen's dower and never redeemed. In the islands the voters must go to the polls by boats, and in some cases the distance to be traveled is eight miles.

First Aid.

"Now," said the professor, "suppose you had been called to see a patient with hysterics—some one, for instance, who had started laughing and found it impossible to stop—what is the first thing you would do?"

"Amputate his funny bone," promptly replied the new student.—Houston Post.

Did Her Best.

"We're always careful about these contiguous diseases," said Mrs. Lapsling. "When Johnny had got well of the measles we bought some sulphur candles and disconcerted the house from top to bottom."—Chicago Tribune.

An Advantage.

"So you prefer servants who speak English imperfectly?"

"Yes," replied the housewife. "If I don't understand what they say I am not obliged to dismiss them so frequently."—Exchange.

Suspicion.

Once give your mind to suspicion and there is sure to be food enough for it. In the stillest night the air is filled with sounds for the wakeful ear that is resolved to listen.

The Common Complaint.

Probably this expression is used oftener by people than any other: "Everything is blamed on me."—Atchison Globe.

An icy stare will generally cause a fellow to take a tumble.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Greensboro People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first:

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys:

That serious kidney troubles follow:

That dropsy, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

Here's the honest statement of a sufferer who was cured.

Mrs. William Welborn, 720 S. Hamilton St., High Point, N. C., says: "At one time I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. I was suffering from kidney trouble in its worst form. The complaint had been coming on me gradually for some years. There was a constant ache in the small of my back and the kidney secretions were unnatural. I suffered from headaches and dizzy spells and I got so poorly at night that when I got up in the morning, I was hardly able to bring myself about. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended to me that I finally gave them a trial and I cannot fully describe the complete change that took place. I gradually grew better and before long I was well. I have not been troubled since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere, seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and dressing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of the hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, healthy hair is the sure result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The dollar bottles guaranteed.

CZAR NOW AN EDITOR.

Nicholas Becomes Backer of the Russkoje Snamja Newspaper.

Boston Globe.

With misgivings we welcome the personal entrance of Nicholas, ruler of Russia, into the field of journalism.

By the investment of 40,000 roubles he has rescued from the grave the Russkoje Snamja, a newspaper which got into financial difficulties, and henceforth will back it to the limt of his fat purse.

The staff of the sheet must be weeping tears of joy!

When this Imperial publisher gets down to business, in the near future, he will swallow his caviare and tea every morning in a hurry, rush to the palace telephone, call up the office and converse with the director of affairs there somewhat as follows

"Who set up my title—Czar—with a lower case c?"

"Billowski, the linotype operator."

"Consign him to the hellbox."

"Who put the scare head on the bomb-throwing story?"

"Milowski, the copyreader."

"Shoot him at high noon."

"Who wrote the editorial on the rotten bureaucracy?"

"Timowski, the deep thinker of deep thoughts."

"Siberia for life—and then some!"

We call attention to these prospective vacancies in the mechanical and literary departments of the Russkoje Snamja, under its new management, for the benefit of any ambitious American journalist who speaks Russian and has the nerve to imagine that he is tactful enough to hold fast a job on the royal organ.

An Open Letter.

Kernersville, N. C., Jan. 4, 1911. Vick's Ramily Remedies Co., Greensboro, N. C. Gentlemen:—I have used your Croup and Pneumonia Salve for spasmodic asthma and find it superior to anything I have ever tried. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering with this disease. Yours truly, Geo. W. Wilson.

"What's the difference between a pig and a pug?" propounded the funny boarder. "Merely the difference between U andI," replied the blunt-nosed one.

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Farriss-Klutz Drug Co.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute atack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." Howard Gardner.

KAUFMAN'S BIG SALARY

Heavy-Weight Fighter to Get $50,000 for Two Years.

New York, Feb. 16.—Al Kauffman, the heavy weight pugilist, has sold his career for two years to Barney Gerard, of New York ,for $50,000. Another contract was also signed whereby Gerard promises to pay all of the pugilist's traveling expenses and board bills during that time. The papers were signed on Saturday in Baltimore.

It is doubtful if ever a greater chance agreement was ever drawn up between two men. Recently Kaufman has been receiving flattering offers from William Brady, Jack Gleason and others which caused Gerard to sit up and take notice.

Gerard believes that eventually Kaufman will fight Johnson, and that he will be returned the winner.

The only bad feature of the sign-up thing falls on the shoulders of Kaufman, for should he meet the champion and score a win over him within the time stated in his contract he will be worth more than twice the amount for which he signed.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you success. 520 Laura avenue."

JOHN D. SAVES GASOLINE.

"Never Waste Anything," Says Oil King to His Chauffeur.

Augusta (Ga) dispatch in New York World.

John D. Rockefeller doesn't believe in wasting gasoline when he takes spins about Augusta in his touring car, and today he sharply rebuked his chauffeur, who was using gasoline when there was no need.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who is spending a few weeks here, went out today for an automobile ride, accompanied by three friends. The chauffeur sent the machine along at a merry pace, climbed a long hill, and as the machine began to rush down a long grade Mr. Rockefeller reached over and tapped the chauffeur on the shoulder.

"Say, Charlie," he cautioned, "shut off the engine and save the gasoline. You must never waste anything."

Charlie shut off the engine.

MARK TWAIN

1/2 Price

A New Edition

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity—for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Molière and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstoi, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Pudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Opper. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 5x7¼ inches.

MORMON PLATE STIRS ROW.

Polygamist Young's Face on Silver Utah Is to Give Battleship.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Symbols of the Mormon church will not adorn the silver service of the battleship Utah if the protest which certain Senators are about to make can prevent it. Ever since it was announced that the centre silver piece in the set is to be engraved with a fac-simile of the Salt Lake City Tabernacle and a statue of Brigham Young Senators have been deluged with protests from women's societies all over the Union, and it was said today that several have taken up the matter with the secretary of the navy.

The subscriptions for the purchase of the service for the big battleship were taken all over Utah and Mormons, Gentiles and Jews all subscribed liberally. No attempt was made to figure what percentage of the sum was subscribed by Mormons.

Brigham Young was a frank polygamist, and the fact that he had 24 wives and 43 children has been indignantly discussed by the women's clubs of the country. They object to the adornment of the silver service with such engravings, and point out that Christian officers would be forced to dine off what they considered unhallowed plates.

ENTERTAINMENT A SUCCESS

Scotch Evening at Smith Memorial Building Last Night Enjoyed Immensely.

"Scotch evening" at the Smith Memorial building last night was a drawing card, for the entertainment was largely attended and everyone present felt more than repaid for being present. In addition to the Scotch ballads and tableaux the young ladies sold chicken salad, ice cream, candies, etc., and a goodly sum was realized for the benefit of the Barium Spring Orphanage.

There were vocal and instrumental solos and a number of Scotch anecdotes, following which "Auld Robin Grey" was given in pantomine, Mrs. J. E. Latham reading the quaint Scotch story while the different characters were represented by a number of young people.

Yesterday afternoon a large number of children gathered at the building to enjoy an automobile ride and for the payment of 5 cents they were whirled over the city in autos for several hours, to their intense enjoyment.

THIRTY ENLIST AS BOY SCOUTS

About forty boys gathered at the Carnegie Library last night to hear Secretary Martin of the Y. M. C. A. explain the purposes and methods of the Boy Scouts.

The subject was gone into with thoroughness and at the conclusion of the conference the boys had a clear idea of what the term Boy Scout means. About thirty applications for membership were received.

Within the next week another meeting will be held to further carry out the plans for organizing and maintaining here a strong band of the Boy Scouts.

Two Trappers Rescued After Bad Experience.

Wheatland, Iowa, Feb. 17.—Chilled, numb and hungry after clinging for 36 hours to the branches of a tree, Harold Tyron and Charles Rice, two trappers living on an island in the Wapsie river were rescued late last night. They narrowly escaped the grasp of the flood which swept down through the river bottoms.

Tyron and Rice woke up Wednesday to find their boat swept away, their tent surrounded by water and the river full of floating ice. The water rose rapidly and the men were obliged to climb a tree for safety. They were discovered by Fred Schocker, who saw them from shore. Having no boat he was obliged to go to Wheatland and bring a skiff out to the place in a wagon in order to rescue the men.
